FIRST
IMPRESSIONS

When I first entered into this school in the ninth grade, I was a stranger in a strange place and I desperately wanted to make a good first impression.

One morning during homeroom, Lauri Johnson approached me while I was rushing to finish my Algebra homework. With an innocent look she asked me a question I did not quite hear. Trying to be polite I said "excuse me?" She repeated her question and I still misunderstood it. Dumbfounded at what she had said I asked her to repeat it again. I figured I had a fifty-fifty chance of getting the right answer so I replied "no." She gave me an incredibly confused look and walked away. Later that day as I was pondering over the syllables in her question, it dawned on me that she had actually said, "Excuse me, can I borrow your pencil?" " So much for first impressions.

A 1973 newspaper commentary by Marilyn Lawendowski:

There's something new coming for the students of Charlton and Dudley.

It goes beyond the excitement of a school's first opening, of its sparkling facilities waiting to be used.

It goes as far as an attitude.

From the administrators, to the army of people who have been responsible for bringing to reality the dream of a new regional school, there's a feeling of positivism, of enthusiasm, of "everything going for us from the day the idea was conceived."

For the students from each of the two towns, the first day of school at Shepherd Hill may have different meaning. For those from Charlton, it will mean the end to overcrowded double sessions, of jam-packed days with little room for pause for interaction, either among students, or between students and faculty. For those from Dudley, it will mean having a High School of their own for the first time, calling an end to years of temporary enrollment in nearby towns.

But for both towns, it seems to be a case of "everything to gain."

Principal Robert Day, and assistants Albert Thibadeau and Perry Berkowitz are reflections of that positive thinking, the source of the enthusiasm that seems to be boundless when the subject is Shepherd Hill. When they get together to "talk shop" creative ideas run rampant, all leading to one goal: making Shepherd Hill a school which students will enjoy coming to, and a school which can serve both communities academically and socially.

Taking things in their proper turn, their primary objective this week, is to see the smooth opening of the school, to see that the professional staff and students are settled and comfortable in their new surroundings. Day tells of a number of students who have volunteered to facilitate this, by helping in the moving and unpacking, by acting as guides for the recently held Open House, by simply asking, "What can we do?" He finds that "Pride" and "Unity", adopted as guidewords for the new school, are already being developed.

In the future of the school, the three have visions of it becoming a community-oriented facility, including the traditional evening adult classes, but going far beyond.

They see a future campaign for new members for the school's Booster Club which was begun last year and now includes about 100 members. Adults within both communities are invited to join, whether or not they have youngsters at the school.

They see, in the future, tapping an important resource in any community, that of the senior citizen. They want senior citizens to become involved with the school, and to help where they feel they can, in all areas of the school, social, academic, and extra-curricular.

They see the possibility of sponsoring different cultural events, and performances for the students during the day, and for the public in the evening.

Interaction, between the faculty, the students, and the community is a major goal.

Newspaper article on Nov. 2, 1979:

DUDLEY- They're playing the waiting game now.

Shepherd Hill and Tantasqua Regional transformed into instant Super Bowl contenders by Southbridge's loss to Keene a week ago, can only wait for top ranked Lunnenburg to fall.

In this week's schoolboy football ratings, based on won-loss records, and opponents' values, Lunnenburg ranked highest in Division 2 with a 16.28 rating and a glossy 7-0 record.

But right on its heels are Tantasqua (6-1, 15.71) and Shepherd Hill (6-1, 15.14) and should the Blue Knights stumble, the Border Conference could send its second Super Bowl representative in as many years. . . . Hey, look, why not the Rams? This is a team that traditionally gets stronger as the season goes along, and has a real shot at some post-season action this time around.

This week's match-up with unbeaten Assabet (6-0-1) will give a couple of clues to how the Rams will respond to this frontrunner status. The pick-em panel looks for a powerful offensive display from the Rams, picking Shepherd Hill by 13.

A 1980 newspaper article:

BLACKSTONE- This year's field hockey team is not only among the youngest and loosest squads coach Karen Jensen has had at Shepherd Hill, it's also a win away from being the most accomplished.

Chris O'Connor scored the game's only goal 10 minutes into the second half and goalkeeper Donna Daniels was spectacular as the Rams advanced to the District III semifinal game for the second straight season with a 1-0 win over Blackstone-Millville yesterday.

"This is not my most serious team" understated Jensen, in the midst of a mirthful victory celebration on the Chargers home field. "Their approach to the game isn't as serious as other teams I've had. They have fun playing."

They've also had fun winning, as their 1980 12-2-4 record attests, and the Rams will have a chance to take on the only team to beat them (twice, 2-1 and 5-0) this season when they play Auburn at 9:30 Saturday morning at Oxford High School.

Auburn beat Milford, 2-0, yesterday.

LIGHTING THE HILL

In the early part of the Spring of 1986 a group of interested parents, faculty members and friends of Shepherd Hill gathered to form the Shepherd Hill Light Project Committee. The goal was to install lighting on the Shepherd Hill Athletic Field by the Fall of 1987.

Later on that Spring the Dudley-Charlton Regional School District School Committee officially sanctioned the project and the committee. The group incorporated and fund raising efforts got underway. The goal was $30,000.

The Shepherd Hill Booster Club got things rolling by donating 3,000 to the project. The committee then set to work on a program booklet to be used for the 1986 football season. By selling ads all summer the committee wasable to raise nearly $12,000. The remainder of the funds were raised in a variety of ways including a dinner, a raffle, a bottle drive, a golf tournament and direct donations.

During the time the technical subcommittee, counsulting with Mr. Roger Fournier, began to investigate various types of lighting and installation methods. By the Spring of 1987 the plans had been drawn by Mr. Fournier and an electrical contractor had been hired.

By June all materials had been ordered and arrangements had been made with the Air National Guard and Liberty Cable to do the trenching and laying of conduit. Work continued throughout the summer and by the second week of September the "Hill was Lit."

The lights were put to use immediately and seemed to have a tremendous impact on the entire school. Participation at all events increased and the enthusiasm was most gratifying.

Mr. Galante
Lighting Committee Rep.

Mr. Robert Galante, Lighting Committee Representative. We thank you for your dedication to making the goal of lighting the "Hill" a reality.

Although the Boys' Track team had a 3-6 record, two of those wins were against Bartlett and Auburn, earning the team second place in the Border Conference. Selected as Conference All-Stars were Mike Jarominski, Matt Spiewakowski, and David Meciak who was also team MVP. Next year's team looks promising with over twenty underclassmen scheduled to return.

Boys' tennis

The 1987 Rams were beyond doubt the strongest team in the conference. The Border Conference Champs went undefeated 8-0. They shut out their opponents in six Conference matches.

The netmen were led by Chris Knowles, MVP sophomore, whose blistering backhand and well placed power serves left the District forehands chasing mayflies. Mike Whitney and Matt O'Connor provided consistency in the number two and three spots. Captain Kerry Clark and Cory Tegius gave no lines in superb first doubles play racqueting to an 8-0 Conference Record. Chip Powers and Jeff Duquette, our second doubles team, a must win position for teem tennis success, also went undefeated in Conference play. The '87 bench: Jeff Hammer, Dave Lawrence, Eric Antos, Justin Kulzyck and Chris Dufault, did also contribute when needed.

Unfortunately, the team was overpowered by Nashoba in the Districts ending a very fine season11-4. With the best racquets returning in '88, we will not only be the odds on favorite to repeat as Border Conference Champs but also aim to post the first win ever for the Hill in boys tennis District play.

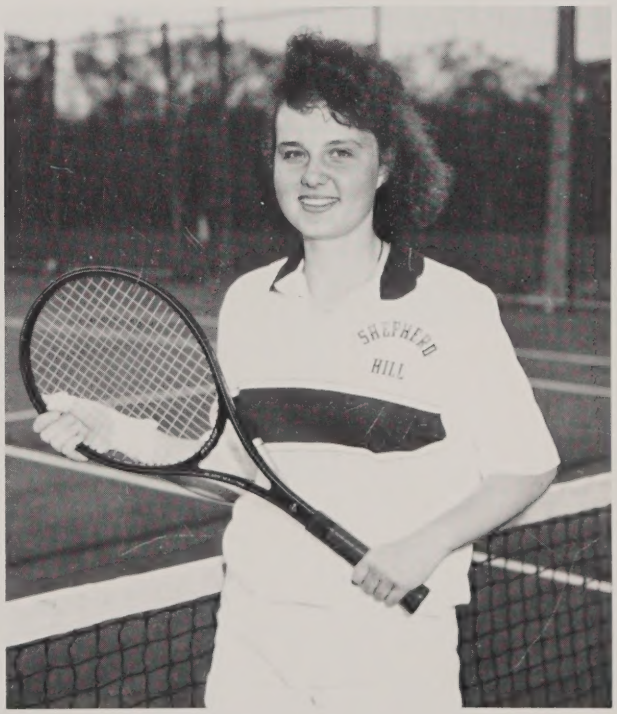
The Girls' Tennis team finished a very successful season with a record of sixteen wins and three losses. Among their achievements was a Border Conference title and a berth in the District Tournament. The team advanced to the semi-finals of the Districts at Holy Cross before falling to a strong Westford team.

Marta Zurowska captained the team and once again went undefeated in the regular season.



Girls' Tennis Captain Marta Zurowska led the Rams with another undefeated season.

Gymnastics

This year's gymnastic season was a rebuilding and growing season for all the girls. We began the season having only three gymnasts including our captain, Joy Cleveland, who had previous competition experience.

With the loss of one of our top all-around gymnasts, Dale Cummings, both our scores and spirits were hindered. We therefore relied on younger gymnasts to carry us through. They proved to be both willing and dedicated and improved as the season progressed.

With no seniors on the team, all of the gymnasts will be returning next year at which point we will continue improving with the same momentum we had through this season.

The spirited Boys' Cross Country Team managed to have a winning season, finishing at 9-8 despite racing against some of the top teams in the area. The Rams had a strong top three with seniors Lou Sroczenski and Chris Towle, and sophomore Dave Nelson leading the way. Other letter winners on the team include Paul Latour, Joe Millett and the eighth grade duo of Tim Nelson and Bill Bonneau. The Rams hope to rebuild around this nucleus of young runners for next season. Other team members include Chris Dufault, Steve Comtois, Chris Brousseau, Roy Hunter and Dave O'Connor.

Two years ago the Girls cross country team was on the verge of extinction. The team was 0-9 that year and they got shut out five times. Only Deb Duhamel and Kris McGarry from this year's team can recall those dismal times. This year Deb and Kris are members of an 8-1 team, the Border Conference and League Meet champions. Other key members of this championship team include Karen Perzanoski, the top harrier in the conference, and the Rams back-attack of Lori Antos, Sandi Lachapelle, Sheryl Strzelewicz and Tina Mezzoni. Rounding out the squad were Emily Gauthier, Jenna Lemerise and seventh graders Melissa Sepos and Amie Pariseau. Congratulations to this fine group of girls who brought their team from extinction to distinction in just two short years.

Coach John Hickman's first season as head coach started on a sour note. The Rams lost a tough game to Algonquin.

Co-captains Steve Earp, Wayne Darling, Kyle Kunkle, and Ron Springer led their team to six straight victories. Included in this streak was an 18-10 victory over rival Bartlett, a game that saw Ron Springer score all of Shepherd Hill's points.

After a 2 point loss to St. Bernard's, Shepherd Hill, with Larry McKissick on the ground and Brian Ravenelle through the air, won its last two regular season games and clinched a Super Bowl birth.

The Super Bowl game itself was a battle of the defenses. The Rams' lost a tough, well-played game to Worcester South 3-0, thus ending a great football year.

Super Bowl Rap

To clear things up this is not a raid
So cheerleaders don't be afraid
Here's a few words between you and me
The 87 Rams made history
We were the first to light up the hill
All will say it was the biggest thrill.
This year was something very rare
We can all say that we were there.
We were the first to go to the Bowl
Cuz our wins made up a hefty toll.
We took something that was very dear
Border Conference Champs of our Senior year.
We all know it could never been made
Without all of you who gave us aid
The Springer's made sure we were fed
With Prince spaghetti and garlic bread.
Then there were our loyal fans
Who hooted and hollered and rocked the stands.

There's our coach called the "Whale"
"With discipline we will never fail".
Some might think its for the birds
But then we won with these famous words.

And with the line there's Coach Hack
Good luck next year, Rusty's back.
Then there's the man with the funny grin
Hey, everybody its Coach Langevin.
With the encouragement of Coach Spahl
We always knew we would not fall.
Every Tuesday we reached death's border
Doing Coach Murray's gasers every quarter.
There is more to add to the lot
Like Mr. Sendro and his icy-hot.

The culminating game of the season for Shepherd Hill, the Thanksgiving Day game, took on special meaning to the team because of the possibilityy of going to the Superbowl.

The rain and cold didn't stop fans from coming out to see the game. Shepherd Hill was ready for the game. The first and only necessary points of the game were scored in the first quarter when Jim Bond returned an interception for a touchdown.

The Rams went on to win 20-0.

Under first year varsity coach Peter Geanis, the team's season was some what of a struggle. Ending with a record of 4 and 13, this year was only the second losing season for the Rams in the school's history. The record is misleading, though, because eight of the games were lost within the last few minutes. Matt Dunn and Jim Kelley provided most of the fire-power from outside while Ron Springer and Matt O'Connor were the Ram's inside strength. Their performances combined with guard Brian Ravenelle's inside and outside moves kept the Ram's in the thick of every game during the long season. The future looks bright with some good play off the bench including Sophomore Josh Bond who contributed much to the team in the second part of the season.

Next to the Varsity girls' team, the JV Boys provided plenty of excitement in the Shepherd Hill gym this year. The team ended the season with a near- perfect 14 - 1 season. The only sorespot was a one - point loss to Algonquin. The JV Rams racked up blowout after blowout on their way to their second Border Conference championship. The JV Rams were lead by Richard Bergin, Joe Dowling, Brian Powers, Brian Sullivan, Chris Allen, and Dave Nelson. Their talent along with almost equal talent off the bench bodes well for the future of Ram basketball. The future looks extremely bright.

The lady Rams had a regular season record of 17-3 while being 10-2 in the Border Conference. This record gave them a berth in the Division I playoffs and second place in the Border Conference behind a strong North Brookfield team. During the season, the team was led by Junior Sandy Nichols who had an average of 15 points per game, Senior Shawn Scanlon with 12 points and 15 rebounds per game and Karen Jarzabski who added an average of 10 per game. The Rams beat Bartlett, Quaboag, and Southbridge twice during the season, with their only losses to St. Peter-Marion, Tantasqua (in double overtime), and North Brookfield.

The story of the season was the battle against North Brookfield for top spot in the conference. Shepherd Hill won the first game while playing away when Sandy Nichols tied the game in regulation with a 3-point shot. Then in overtime, Shawn Scanlon and Bonnie Nichols combined for the overtime points to put Shepherd Hill up by one 47-46. The second meeting was for the championship. With five seconds to go in the game, North Brookfield caught the inbounds pass and put up a three-pointer to win the game 46-44.

The 1988 Winter athletic season was highlighted by the addition of Shepherd Hill's first wrestling team. In laymen's terms, wrestling is a sport in which one opponent grapples with another in an attempt to pin his opponent to the mat. The young team, coached by Mr. Thompson Boyd, displayed not only extreme enthusiasm but also a sense of strong-willed determination. The team members went so far as to adorn themselves in neckties prior to each competition.

Captained by Frank Harrison, Reed Cleveland and Mark Ruggeri, the Rams ended the season with an impressive win and a record of 1 and 7.

The Senior Student Council plays a very active role at Shepherd Hill in many areas. Student council members are the representatives of the entire student body of Shepherd Hill. This year the student council ran many activities to raise funds for many worthwhile activities and scholarships. The concession stand at football games has been one of the council's principle fund raisers. Student Council members hosted a dessert table for the faculty this year that was superb! The students, under the direction of Mr. Greenwood are currently planning this year's annual blood drive. Last years drive was a total success raising ninety-one pints of blood.

Many dances are coordinated and run by the student council each year and this year was no exception. Mr. Greenwood and the members of the council are to be commended for all of the time and energy that they give toward the activities at Shepherd Hill.

After leaving Paris they will visit the famous Cathedrale de Chartres and several chateaux of the Loire Valley before continuing by bus to the south of France. There they will tour Avignon, Nimes and Arles where they will see many remains of the Roman civilation. While on the Cote d'Azur, they will see also visit Monaco, the smallest country in the world, and swim in the Mediterranean. The trip will conclude with a spectacular drive through the Alps, passing through the Mont Blanc tunnel and a tour of Geneva Switzerland. The students have spent a great deal of time this year in preparation for this trip. They have learned the many steps in obtaining a passport and visa and have held several fundraisers including making and selling Christmas centerpieces. While on the trip they will learn to deal with foreign currency and experience the culture of a country other than their own. Mrs. Pierangeli, Mrs. Canty and Mr. Bonczek are the advisors of this group.

Anthology

L. Grovesteen, J. Lanza, J. London, A. Harmon, A. Kasheta, A. Lawendowski, J. Ruda, Mrs. Siewick

The "Anthology" is Shepherd Hill's literary magazine. It was started ten years ago by Tony Connors, an English teacher. At first it was just a creative writing class project, but the second year it was expanded to include stories and poems written by students in all grades.

The "Anthology" contest was designed to give recognition to the best writers in each edition. In the past, judges have been chosen from people who worked outside of the school. These judges have included artists, elementary teachers, a psychologist, and a lawyer.

This year the "Anthology" staff wishes to thank Mr. Hickman and the Rams Horn students for printing the magazine, and Lori Chapdelaine for her beautiful illustrations and cover design.

The Junior Classical League is a small but enthusiastic group of Latin students who came together to share their particular interests. Over the summer, members attended a national convention held in Florida and participated in contests of academics, sports, and art. In March, members throughout eastern Massachusetts come together on Classics Day to attend lectures on various aspects of Latin and the Roman culture.

In April is state Latin Day, on which Junior Classical League members participate in Olympic events such as swimming, track and field, the Certamen (a Latin version of 'As Schools Match Wits'), The chariot races, costume contests, craft and graphic art displays and catapult contests.

The Shepherd Hill Band participated in many Massachusetts Instrumental Conductors Association Competitions this year. It received silver metals in the competitions held both at Shepherd Hill and in Sumerville and received a gold metal in the competition at South Hadley. In the State Finals at Sullivan Stadium in Foxboro, the Shepherd Hill Band placed first with a gold metal, becoming the #1 band in all of Massachusetts.

The band was also very successful in parade competitions. In Auburn the band placed first and at the Southbridge firefighters parade Shepherd Hill received first place metals in all divisions. In a Worcester parade the band was not only first in their division but also awarded best and overall. In conclusion, the band won first place in both the Massachusetts State and New England State Finals in Quincy, Massachusetts; and received trophies for best drum major, percussion, majorette, music and color guard.

The band performed at home and away football games as well. On Thanksgiving Day, past band members joined the Senior High band for the halftime show, and the Junior High Band debuted with their halftime show on November 6.

The 1987-88 Senior Chorus is comprised of a large number of students who elect chorus as a regular part of their course of studies. The Senior Chorus performs at various functions during the course of the year. This year they performed at the Spring Concert and The Christmas Assembly.

A performance is scheduled for April to raise funds for a trip next spring. In May the Senior Chorus will travel to Boston for a competition.

Under the trained and watchful eye of Mrs. Galli, the Senior Chorus rehearses three or four times each week. As the time progresses, chorus members begin appreciating their growth and skills.

New uniforms were selected this year consisting of black tuxedos and maroon dresses capped with a white collar.

The 1988 Shepherd Hill Show Choir was, as always very productive. Practice, rehearsals, and individual training becomes the regular diet for the students who participate in the show choir. Competitions take place during the school year at such places as Oliver Ames High School, Boston, and The University of New Hampshire Jazz Festival, not to mention the Central Massachusetts Show Choir Festival held here at Shepherd Hill in which the Senior High Show Choir took a silver medal.

The Senior Show Choir also participated in many projects such as, community service presentations, chorus shows in the region and the Spring Concert which has been held for several years.

Mrs. Galli who directs the show choirs along with Mr. Lamont Ridgeu, a choreographer, work with the Senior Choir members not only during the school year, but also during the summer months. This rehearsal time enables the members to learn new songs and dances and practice the former ones.

Victory Dance

The Student Council-sponsored annual victory dance held in the school cafeteria on Friday evening, November 27, was very successful and a truly delightful event. One hundred sixty-five couples of beautifully attired young men and women attended the dance following the Thanksgiving Day football game victory of 20-0 over Tantasqua High School. Those attending were on excellent behavior, yet very much in holiday spirit and excited by Shepherd Hill's upcoming Super Bowl game, made possible with that victory. Much effort annually goes into planning and organizing this event, particularly the construction and decorations. Compliments are in order for all the students, staff and volunteers who worked on the event, especially Student Council advisor James Greenwood and the committe chairperson Colleen Healy. The queen selected for the dance was senior Sandy Caplette. Her court consisted of seniors Kathy Bergin, Karen Jarzabski, Mara Kelley, and Dawn Poole; juniors Lena Buccelli, Julie Jankowski and Holly Kelly; sophomores Heidi Piehl and Myndi Lavallee; and freshman Lorie Kelley

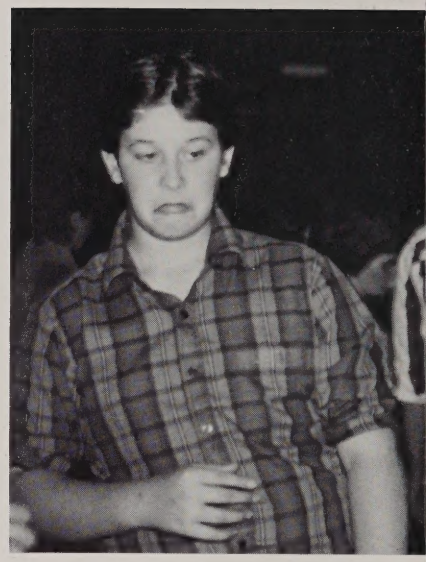
Fit



September 29, 1987

It seemed like an ordinary Tuesday morning. It was gloomy and there was a gray sky and fog. But the morning of September 29, 1987 will be a date not soon forgotten.

I really wasn't sure what was happening, I had seen the fire engines but didn't want to assume the worst.

Rumors began, I didn't know which to believe. I didn't know what to say or do. The emotions that I felt at that time are hard to put down on paper. I had a numb feeling and was shocked.

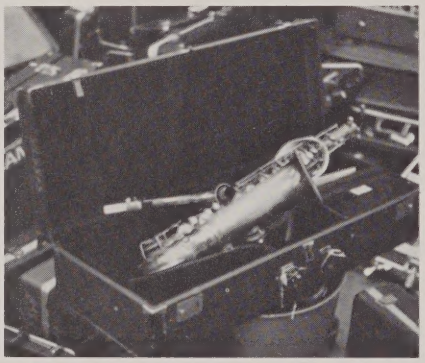
We began to gather in groups of band members. With teary eyes we tried to comfort one another. To many of us, band is our second family. There we all stood, watching our family going through anguish.

Many of us were tremendously upset but were forced to leave. I remember the bus ride home that day. Some saw the fire as a day off. While many were too upset to talk. My thoughts were jumbled and untouchable. Our hard work and future dreams, what would happen to them?

I received a call that afternoon telling me that the instruments were fine. Our uniforms were gone but there was nothing we could do but move ahead.

We had each other and many supportive friends and communities. These people have enabled us to continue our season with much success. Now we know that the band can bounce back and is better than ever.

Karen Guy



Check out our pride and unity

We knew something was wrong when we got to the parking lot. It was real foggy and we couldn't see a thing, not even ten feet in front of us. The faculty allowed us on the upper field and we watched. All you could see was a red flashing light all over the parking lot. All the band members and chorus members and even concerned students were just watching in a daze. There was a rumor going on, everything was destroyed. Most of us were in tears, not because of the equipment or uniforms, but because of the memories. Band and chorus is like a home away from home. Right there in front of our eyes was our "house" being destroyed. In my years of attending Shepherd Hill I never saw so much "Pride and Unity". People who played sports, people from other schools, parents, everyone wanted to help. These people offered money, uniforms, equipment, volunteer time, almost anything we needed. The band and chorus are active in so many ways, performances, rehersals, gatherings. We just couldn't let a tragedy like this affect us in any way. This is Shepherd Hill. If something sets us back, we have to get back on our feet and conquer it.
